SMALL COLLEGE ATHLETES
 Oberlin, Ohio, Feb. 5.—The stage has been reached where any college which develops a successful team or a number of star athletes is at once under suspicion. Professor C. W. Savage, director of athletics at Oberlin College, declared in a statement today:

"The smaller the college and the more successful the athlete the greater is the feeling of distrust," he said. "Such conditions threaten the entire structure of intercollegiate sports. It is time for faculties, administrators and governing bodies to consider these things."

If the report of President Lowell of Harvard, which declared college sports had too prominent a place in college life, is correct, such a survey of intercollegiate athletics would have to be made with the gratitude of every loyal American citizen," Director Savage asserted.

Director Savage declared the attitude of eastern educational leaders toward athletics "always has been restrictive and repressive instead of constructive and directive."

"This policy of the east has been a terrible incubator upon progression of the rest of the country," he said. "Whereas of crookedness, professionalism and other forms of ineptitude in connection with the game."

A detail of mess cooks had gone to the forward four hold of the Huron to "break out" flour for the bakeshop. Seaman David Matheson, the first to enter, was immediately overcome by carbon dioxide gas generated by fermentation of damp flour. Seaman John J. Morrill and Anton Huhn went to his assistance, but were rendered unconscious by the gas. The rigging of a wind sail to a discharge from the ventilating system to carry fresh air into the hold enabled others to reach the men, but not until Seaman William Vacher was added to those overcome. Seamen Morrill and Huhn died from the effects of the gas.

The men commanded were Chief Warden, Walter T. Foley, Boston; Mass. Shipwright Frank C. Heckard, Pittsburgh; Chief Electrician Clarence A. Howell, San Francisco; Seaman Wesley A. Her, Brooklyn; Chief Electrician's Mate Harry Kramer, Fruitvale, Calif.; Chief Pharmacist's Mate Merton H. Maud, Lovens, Ohio; and Chief Machinist's Mate William W. Vacher, Seattle, Wash. Morrill's home was in Burlington, Vt., and that of Huhn in Connaught, Wis.

VICTORY NOTES ACCEPTABLE FOR INCOME TAX PAYMENTS
 Washington, Feb. 5.—Secretary Mellon has issued formal instructions to internal revenue collectors, it was announced today, to accept Victory notes in payment of income and profits taxes on March 15. In connection with the announcement the secretary issued the following statement: "Victory notes in order to be acceptable in payment of taxes on March 15, 1922, must be in coupon form and must have all unexpired coupons attached that in to say, coupons for June 15 and December 15, 1921 and May 15, 1922. Settlers for income interest on the notes from December 15, 1921 to the last interest payment date, to March 15, 1922, will be made by check from the Federal Reserve bank direct to the taxpayer. Victory notes in registered form will not be acceptable."

The treasury in making this offer to accept Victory notes in payment of March 15 taxes in the belief that it will be a convenience to taxpayers. NO CHOICE MADE FOR NEW PREMIER FOR ITALY
 Rome, Feb. 5.—(By The A. P.)—This was the Premier of Italy at the Quirinal, King Victor Emmanuel receiving in turn Salandra, Orlando, Nitti and Giolitti, but no official announcement was made as to the king's probable choice for the premiership.

The majority groups favor the selection of Enrico De Nicola as head of a new cabinet, replacing the ministry of Signor Bonomi which resigned last week. If Signor De Nicola is disposed to resign the premiership of the chamber, political circles here believe it practically certain he will be called to the premiership.

The king concluded his conference today with prominent political leaders and parliamentarians who acted in advisory roles. Tomorrow it is expected he will officially order the task of forming a cabinet.
